Outreach

The SFWS outreach initiatives serve to educate and engage members of the public and private sectors regarding natural resources related issues. SFWS programs engage thousands each year and are offered through SFWS facilities and in partnership with other agencies. Outreach activities include K-12 educational programs, skill development workshops and technical seminars, field training exercises, research project assistance, and community programs.

HIGHLIGHTS
- SFWS is affiliated with 9 research centers and cooperatives
- Nearly 6,000 acres and many educational facilities used for outreach and extension
- As many as 36 faculty may participate and 4 staff are dedicated to outreach
- 7 SFWS-affiliated faculty/extension agents and 2 coordinators
- More than 30,000 people are served annually by SFWS outreach programs and activities

FACILITIES AND OUTDOOR CLASSROOMS
- Kreher Preserve & Nature Center
- Solon Dixon Forestry Education Center
- Mary Olive Thomas Demonstration Forest
- Weagle Woods

CENTERS AND COOPERATIVES
- Alabama Cooperative Fish and Wildlife Research Unit
- Center for Environmental Studies at the Urban-Rural Interface
- Center for Longleaf Pine Ecosystems
- Forest Health Cooperative
- Forest Policy Center
- Forest Products Development Center
- International Center for Climate and Global Change Research
- Southern Forest Engineering Center
- Southern Forest Nursery Management Cooperative

For more information, visit auburn.edu/sfws/outreach/.